King

Well, I been reged and find joy in seeing you again
Many is time I cursed your name.

However, now is not the place or time. I am in need of your services. My daughter has been taken. It doesn't make sense. No ransom, no notes, nothing.
Several guards were killed attempting to stop them. This happened seven days ago. No one saw them come in, and no one is alive that saw them leave.
Find her and restore her back to me, and I will rescind my proclamations having you banished, your lands will be restored, and you will be rewarded greatly.
There comes a time in one's life where all that matters, is your loved ones.

The love for my daughter outweighs any grievance I held. Getting her back is all that matters to me.
I charge you with this royal duty.

Bring my daughter back, find out who did this, and bring my wrath upon them. All the doors to the castle are open to you, talk to whom you wish. The Chamberlain will give you the keys and have the necessary proclamations made.
